- › CURRICULAR NON COMPULSORY INTERNSHIP (not for CFUs), to be concluded before the graduation date. It is allowed to carry out the thesis in another University only if the host organization accepts to formalise the presence of the student graduate as an intern/trainee. As an alternative, it is possible to opt for the application to the International Mobility for Study program, and/or Free Mover, that allows the development of the thesis in another University as an exchange student, not as intern/trainee.
- › EXTRACURRICULAR INTERNSHIP, i.e. after obtaining the degree, in condition of new graduate/Master graduate or Specializing School graduate/ new PhD Holder entirely after the graduation date and to be concluded within 12 months from the graduation.

- › To carry out the internship, the selected candidate must necessarily go to the country of the host organization; the mobility must therefore be physical and the Career Service will ask the candidate for proof of outbound and inbound travel for verification. The candidate may, for any fresh outbreak of the pandemic situation or for the policy of the host organization and if allowed by local legislation, also carry out moments of distance/work from home (online internship), but necessarily being in the Country of the Host organization. Totally virtual mobility (totally online internships and carried out "from home") are not allowed and are not subject to financial contributions.
- › The internship must necessarily be full time (from 21 to 40 hours per week).
- › In the context of Erasmus + for Traineeship it is not possible to carry out activities other than an internship, therefore employment contracts are not eligible for contributions.
